

Teacher's Note

- Encourage students to write short sentences that make sense as a story.
- Cutting skills, drawing skills and creativity are all part of this exercise.
- Ask students to write with a pencil to start with and after you have checked their spelling they could re-write their sentences with pen.
- You could use pictures from old magazines instead.

Suggested Activities:

- ❖ Have a book exhibition using your students' artworks.
- ❖ Invite a local author who might be able to bring out the arty person in each student.
