

Teacher's Note

1. The hammer is new.
2. That is a fat cable!
3. The drill is dangerous if you are not careful.
4. He is crying because the hammer hit his thumb.
5. I thought he had hard hands.
6. That is a nice toolbox.
7. Yes, it is nifty.
8. Put the used tools in the old box.
9. Place the rusty tools in the thin liquid.
10. The man has recent work experience with clamps.
11. That is explosive liquid!
12. Old and new tools are great!

Grammar is a set of rules and guidelines to help use language correctly. If students want to express themselves well, they have to know how to handle the tools of language.....grammar.

Adjectives are words used to describe a noun or pronoun.

Grammar helps with:

1. Jobs - If you apply for a job sending a letter which is full of grammatical mistakes, the employer will give preference to someone with the same qualifications who has expressed himself correctly.
2. Letters and communications - You may want to write or speak to someone in authority to explain a situation or to complain. You need to know how to express yourself clearly and accurately.
3. Creative writing - In the future you may want to write a poem, a short story, or a book. You will need good grammatical skills if you want it to be published. Most famous writers base their creative talents on grammatical rules.

Outcomes:

English:

grammar – adjectives

spelling, reading, word recognition

Suggested Activity:

<http://www.teachingtreasures.com.au/grammar-course/main.htm>