

Teacher's Note

1. The new car is fast.
2. That is an old car, not a new one.
3. Driving the car is dangerous if you are not careful.
4. He is crying because the new car hit his old car.
5. I thought he had new tires.
6. That is a nice Rolls Royce.
7. Yes, it is nifty.
8. Put the used car in the old shed.
9. Replace the rusty car door for me.
10. The man has recent work experience with repair work.
11. That is a dangerous car.
12. Old and new cars are for sale.

Grammar is a set of rules and guidelines to help use language correctly. If students want to express themselves well, they have to know how to handle the tools of language.....grammar.

Adjectives are words used to describe a noun or pronoun.

Grammar helps with:

1. Jobs - If you apply for a job sending a letter which is full of grammatical mistakes, the employer will give preference to someone with the same qualifications who has expressed himself correctly.
2. Letters and communications - You may want to write or speak to someone in authority to explain a situation or to complain. You need to know how to express yourself clearly and accurately.
3. Creative writing - In the future you may want to write a poem, a short story, or a book. You will need good grammatical skills if you want it to be published. Most famous writers base their creative talents on grammatical rules.

Outcomes:

English:

grammar – adjectives

spelling, reading, word recognition

Suggested Creative Activity:

<http://www.teachingtreasures.com.au/cars.htm>