

Name _____

A conjunction joins words and clauses.

Example: The mountain is steep and very high.

The word 'and' is a conjunction.

There can be more than one conjunction in a sentence.

Example: Steep and high but not far away.

The words 'and' + 'but' are conjunctions.

Underline the conjunctions in each sentence.

1. There are eagles and hawks on the mountain.
2. This mountain is high but the other one is higher.
3. Sally and Kate can climb well but Sue is the best climber.
4. I will climb the mountain if you come too.
5. Gary will come when Alex is ready.
6. Shrubs and small trees grow here but no ferns.
7. It is an eagle or a hawk, but not a magpie.
8. The sun will shine today but it will rain tomorrow.
9. It will hail or snow if it gets much colder,
10. Climb to the top of the mountain and you will have a good view.
11. You can see roads and cars if it is a clear day.
12. Take water and food with you or you will get hungry and thirsty.