

Name: _____

The Boy who lost his undies

Five year old Nathan keeps on loosing his undies He is desperately searching for his lost undies. His mum told him he's to start school the next day. The day Nathan's mother announced he was to start school was the day that Nathan got worried. You see, Nathan never wore undies. He realized he couldn't go to school without them! He was jumping on the trampoline bouncing higher and higher in his sloppy, stripy strides when suddenly they fell around his ankles leaving everything uncovered. "Oh, no!" he cried. "I can't go to school without my undies." So he set in search for his undies that very minute.

- 1) Can you fill in the blank spaces with words that will suit the story.
Remember the words must start with the letter given.

First he searched the a..... Next he looked in the b..... and felt under the c..... who was sleeping on top of the d..... He looked in the e..... and f..... but they offered no trace of his undies, so he climbed the ladder outside and checked the g..... Nathan wondered if by accident he'd put them under the h.....and he searched there but it was hard work and he decided to look in the old i....., j..... and in the k..... By now Nathan was getting rather worried and wondered if his dad had shredded them with the l..... or his mum zapped them in the m..... Maybe they had gone astray at the n..... or burned to a frazzle in the o..... so he checked all those places as well. Not a shelf in the p..... he left unturned, he even checked the inside of his q..... and inside mum's old r..... and in the s..... He checked the t..... u..... then he looked inside the v..... Just maybe, he thought, maybe I've lost them in the w..... or behind dad's x..... Finally he checked the y..... and to his amazement he found them inside the z..... he had flown the other day with his dad. The next day at school the teacher asked Nathan to tell his class his name and proudly he said, "I'm Nathan and I'm wearing my undies."

- 2) What did you notice about the words you wrote down?