

Quicksand

People who tread on quicksand may sink into it and drown because they struggle to escape. The more you struggle the quicker you sink. Quicksand is sometimes found at the mouth of rivers and on coastal sand flats. It consists of fine powdery sand, saturated with water so that it is no longer solid and compact. Sometimes a desert storm can form quicksand and people have drowned in desert quicksand.

How many other words can you make using only the letters in:

QUICKSAND

Imagine your best friend has walked into some deadly quicksand. You are the only one to be able to help. How would you do this? What would you use, what would you tell your friend and do you think you would be successful? Remember.... It all happens REAL quick!
